

My Personal Website

This is a personal website designed to provide insights into an individual's background, skills, and experiences. It serves as a platform for showcasing personal details and expertise, making it particularly useful for job interviews and highlighting web development skills.

Let's delve into its functionality. The website features a navigation bar with titles linked to respective sections, including hyperlinks to personal social media profiles and a download button for acquiring the personal CV.

The site is organized into five main sections: Home, About, Education, Services, and a Message Form section. Each section is accessible through the navigation bar, offering a structured and easy-to-navigate layout.

The footer complements the overall design, housing links to each section as well as social media profiles. This ensures a consistent and user-friendly experience throughout the entire website.
